Qu'Appelle's Growing Time.

A Brilliant Future in Store for this District and Town.

The building of the Prince Albert branch of the C. P. R. some years ago proved a severe blow to Qu'Appelle by the divergence of trade which formerly passed through here for northern points. About a year ago, however, observant capitalists foresaw in the mercantile lines which would bring increased wealth and population to this district, one of the best situated for mixed farming and ranching in the North-west. It was felt that the advantages offered must in the near future be realized by the outside world and men of enterprise would be ready to seize the golden opportunity. This prophecy is rapidly proving true. In this and succeeding articles we purpose setting forth the advancement made in various branches of industry.

The Qu'Appelle Felt and Boot Company, Limited.

A little over a year ago this company began operations in their new building near the town hall. After running the factory for several months they suspended operations until more experienced hands could be obtained to manage the work. Pessimistic lookers whispered around that rain awaited the investors, but when they associated with them Mr. Cook, of Gannawater, Ontario, an experienced wooden manufacturer, and Mr. Hugo Dolge, of Delacville, N. Y., ex-manager of the Dolge Felt Co. and proprietor of the Dryden Wooden Mills, these doubting Thomases began to tell another story.

Having secured such able men the Company went to work with commendable enterprise to enlarge their premises, add new machinery and remodel the old until the whole property was metamorphosed. All this took time and capital and was carried on so quietly but perseveringly that few even in town knew what was doing until the machinery began to hum and announce that a venturesome enterprise was on the eve of success.

Their original building was a three-story structure with a total area of 5444 feet but this was found altogether too inadequate for the various branches of their industry and buildings were added until now they have a total area of nearly 12,000 feet and calculations are being made for further additions next year.

Entering the building a Progress representative was shown through the different departments by the obliging manager, Mr. Dolge, who kindly explained the working of the different machines and showed us samples of goods in their various stages from the raw material to the manufactured article ready for sale.

STORING AND ASSORTING ROOM.

This room is under the management of Mr. Cook who carefully oversees all work done that none but the best and most suitable material may be employed.

Thence the wool is taken down stairs where it is by machinery and then placed in a box containing a number of drawers. Through this is forced steam-heated air which is capable of drying 50 pounds of wool in 1½ hours or over 300 lbs daily.

FELT MANUFACTURE.

It then passes to the mixing room where it is picked and prepared for the carding machine. This branch requires judgment that the proper kind of wool may be employed for the various purposes, viz., knitting yarn, cloth, blankets and felt.

After carding it is placed in the hardeners which reduces it from fluffy sheets to a denser texture. This machine was specially planned and built in Qu'Appelle, for this company.

The filling machine which was specially built for heavy felts was designed by Mr. Dolge and constructed by F. J. Fessant, of Qu'Appelle, and has worked without a hitch from the beginning. It receives the heavy felt from the hardeners and condenses them, a piece having dimensions 60 x 90 inches coming out 32 x 46 inches, with the same thickness.

It may be mentioned here that all sole felts turned out so far have stood the tests made as to density and strength and this without any artificial means.

The felt then goes to the drying room and from there to the finishing department.

In addition to the regular felt the company are manufacturing a first class woven felt cloth which will be used for the uppers in all the higher grade shoes. This cloth as well as the felt is strictly all wool and the company are so confident regarding its good wearing qualities that they give a guarantee for one season with every pair of shoes of the highest grade.

Looking at this felt cloth it struck us that it would be an excellent material for overcoats, the only objection being from the manufacturers' standpoint, that it might never wear out. The finish is of a very superior quality, and we can safely say is second to none on the market.

In the manufacture of sole felt jute and glue are sometimes used, the first as a filling, the second to harden it. This company, however, guarantees their goods all wool and the density is obtained in the filling machine. A sole hardened with glue is less comfortable to the foot and when set easily pulls to pieces. As the company intend to turn out goods of first class quality they use no glue. The sole is therefore pliable, elastic and strong.

The shoes are edged with leather along the edges, lined with red felt and have dark brown soles. They are made in three different grades, well made and neat in appearance. The company are making shippers of the third grade, the price of which will come within the reach of all. The soles of these are of the same material as in higher grades. Each grade is the best of its kind.

BLANKETS.

After spinning the wool into yarn for these articles there follows the weaving, a very interesting process. Then the blankets are washed, napped, bleached, dried and hemmed and are ready for market. The company manufacture white and grey all-wool blankets weighing 6½ lbs., 7 lbs., 8 lbs. and 9 lbs. They are first-class goods in every respect.

AROUND LADYSMITH.

BOERS EVIDENTLY CONCENTRATING ALL THEIR FORCES.

Two Big Guns Mounted 4,500 Yards From the British Camp Attack Is Hourly Expected.

Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—The Boers are gradually closing around Ladysmith. They have mounted two big guns on Tinta Igum, 4,500 yards from the British camp. An attack is expected hourly.

London, Oct. 30.—The Daily Mail publishes the following dispatch from Pietersburg, dated Sunday: "Patrols from Ladysmith report that there are four Boer camps within a radius of ten miles, extending in a semi-circle north-east of the town. Evidently the enemy is concentrating all his forces. Gen. Joubert is in supreme command. One Boer camp has a Red Cross tent carefully posted in a conspicuous position. The British had several skirmishes with the enemy last night. Railway communication with Ladysmith is still intact. At Colenso a couple of Basutos were detected putting boulders on the railway. They confessed they had done this by order of the Transvaal authorities.

"A tall one, very small and so light that two men could hold and haul it down easily with a wire strand, and which can ascend 3,000 feet, is now in use and the full position of the guns of the Boers has been ascertained. The heavy and incessant rains have flooded Tugela river, which will prove an effective barrier to any Boers proceeding southward. The remaining bridges are strongly guarded."

Durban, Oct. 29.—The Natal Mercury has the following from Ladysmith: "The Boers have been seen dragging a heavy artillery up Tinta Igum. It is expected they will adopt tactics similar to those they pursued at Dundee, demonstrating in one direction, while attacking in another. The British intelligence department is completely informed regarding the Boer plans. The enemy have planted two guns, said to be those used in shelling Dundee, on a kopje two and a half miles away, in the direction of Elands-laagte."

Pretoria, Oct. 28.—Commandant Joubert has left Glencoe for the front. A report has been received that Mafeking is burning.

London, Oct. 30.—The dispatches from Ladysmith, without being alarming, are sufficiently critical to be interesting. The delay in the Boer attack is reported to be due to the non-arrival of Commandant General Joubert's column. This has given the British troops needed respite after their recent exertions.

Everything it is now considered, hinges on Gen. White's resource and judgment. Nothing is known regarding the progress of the defensive works for the protection of Ladysmith. The censorship is more active than ever. According to the Daily Chronicle's correspondent, the new regulations limit the number of words allowed for press messages to one-fourth the number allowable before."

The Standard correspondent at Ladysmith, telegraphing Saturday, sends a statement that the Boers have captured 1,500 mules. The attempt of the Boers to cut the railway at Pieters was frustrated by British cavalry. The wife of Gen. Kock has arrived at Ladysmith under a flag of truce to nurse her wounded husband. All the unwounded Boer prisoners have been sent to Durban to prevent any attempt at rescue.

Durban, Oct. 29.—The following official account of the capture of the squadron of the Eighteenth Hussars by the Boers is given by Captain Harby:

"After the battle at Glencoe three squadrons of the Eighteenth Hussars, with a machine, a company of the Durban Fusiliers, and a detachment of mounted infantry, Colonel Moeller commanding, kept under cover of a ridge north of the camp, and at 10.30 p.m. moved down towards Sandpruit. On reaching the open the British force was attacked by the enemy, but without casualties. Col. Moeller led his men into the open, and the enemy, coming around Talana hill in a south-easterly direction, across Van's Drift road, captured several Boers, and saw the Boer ambulances retreating. Then with squadron B of the Hussars, the machine and the mounted infantry, he crossed the Dundee-Vryburg railway and approached a strong fire, wounding Lieut. Lauchlan. Our cavalry retreating across Van's Drift, the Boers pressing, Col. Moller held the ridge for some time, but on the enemy enveloping his right, he fell back across the spur. The machine stuck in a rut, and Lieut. Kap was wounded, three of his detachments were killed and the horses of Major Greville and Captain Pollock were shot under them. The force finally reformed on a ridge to the north, which was held for some time.

While Capt. Harby was attending Lieut. Greville, who had been wounded, Col. Moeller's force entered into a defile, apparently intending to return to camp around Impati mountain. But it was not seen afterwards."

DELATED DISPATCHES.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO TELL WHAT IS HAPPENING.

Gen. Conje Recalled From the West Side to Assist in Concentrating the Boer Forces in Natal.

London, Oct. 28.—The war situation is presumed to be new features. It is presumed in Natal that the Boers are reconstructing their plans, and that the British are resisting, but the telegrams from Ladysmith, at express rate, still occupy forty-eight hours in transmission to London, and therefore it is impossible that something is happening.

The special dispatches assert that Col. Baden-Powell, the British commander at Mafeking, is aware that Pretoria has given Gen. Conje orders to stay his hand, as already there is quite enough to employ the Boers in Natal.

Commenting upon the petition to President McKinley, promoted by a New York paper, arguing that the good offices of the United States, he offered in settling the differences between Great Britain and the Transvaal, the Standard says: "We very much doubt whether the Washington government will at all appreciate the suggestion, but in any case it is for those whom it concerns, and particularly for those whom it does concern, to understand that this Transvaal question is one which exclusively affects ourselves, and which we propose to settle without assistance or intervention of any kind."

The Daily Telegraph publishes the following dispatch from Ladysmith, dated Tuesday: "General Synnott ordered his column to march back to Ladysmith, and under his instructions, himself and all the wounded were placed in the hospital at Dundee. It is supposed that the Boers, puzzled by the retirement, imagined that a trick was being prepared, and therefore remained at Dundee watching their guns instead of pursuing the British."

The Daily Telegraph has the following from Ladysmith dated Wednesday: "Our cavalry patrols have been fired upon near the scene of the Houtfontein engagement. The Boers show signs of becoming aggressive. We learned first of the capture of the Hussars in response to a military wire sent to Commandant General Joubert."

KILLED A WENDIGO.

Two Cat Lake Indians to Be Tried in Winnipeg for Murdering Their Chief.

Rat Portage, Oct. 29.—R. C. Chamberlain, of the Dominion police, Ottawa, and A. B. J. Baunatyne, Indian agent at Lac Seul, are in town with three Indians in their custody. Two of the Indians are charged with shooting their chief, last winter at Cat Lake, about 250 miles northeast of Dinorwic. The story told by the two prisoners is essentially as follows: The chief of the Cat Lake Indians called Ahwah-sah-ah-ming, became a wendigo, or insane, and ordered the prisoners to shoot him. A council of the tribe was called and they discussed the matter for two days, when they arrived at the conclusion that the chief's orders would have to be obeyed. The wendigo lay down in his wigwam and indicated with his hand where they were to shoot him. After he was dead wood was heaped upon his body and the fire kept going for two days, thereby, according to the belief of the Indians, thoroughly destroying the evil spirit of their chief.

The matter was reported to Mr. Baunatyne, but as the Cat Lake tribe are non-treaty Indians, special legislation was passed last July to cover the case. Constable Chamberlain went to Lac Seul, where Mr. Baunatyne and two guides joined him, and they made the 700 mile journey in twenty days. The arrest of the two Indians was effected without trouble and when seen by a correspondent, yesterday smoking their pipes at the hotel, they appeared to rather enjoy their captivity. The third Indian was brought along as a witness. Two of them had never seen a railroad or train before and only one of them had ever seen horses or cows. They are magnificent specimens of the red man and are above the average of their race in intelligence.

They are being held here for an order to take them to Winnipeg for trial, as the assizes are over here. The greatest wonder of the prisoners since their arrival here has been how the white man gets his living. They say everyone seems to be walking about doing nothing. By doing something their idea is hunting or fishing. Messrs. Baunatyne and Chamberlain say they are under great obligations to J. W. Anderson and Robt. Arnett, of the Hudson Bay posts at Lac Seul and Cat Lake respectively, for assistance on the trip.

G. T. H. Smash-Up Near Port Hope.

Port Hope, Ont., Oct. 29.—Two Grand Trunk freight trains collided a mile and a half west of here last night, one freightman, whose name is not known, was seriously injured. Three of the train hands were badly injured. Four loaded cars, one of them having wheat and another flour, from the west, and fifteen empty cars were completely wrecked. The engines and tenders were also wrecked.

A DECISIVE BATTLE.

IS EXPECTED IN THE VICINITY OF LADYSMITH.

Gen. Yule Has Evacuated Glencoe and Dundee and Effected a Junction With Gen. White's Forces.

London, Oct. 25.—The following dispatch from Gen. Sir George Stewart White to the Marquis of Lansdowne, secretary of state for war, received last evening at 11 o'clock, was posted at the war office soon after midnight:

Ladysmith, Oct. 25.—Information received yesterday showed that the Boers had established themselves in considerable numbers in an exceedingly good position west of the main road leading from Ladysmith to Dundee. I also had information that the Dundee force, formerly commanded by General Synnott, and since his wound, commanded by General Yule, was falling back on Ladysmith by way of the Helpma Kaar road, Beith and the valleys of the Waschbank and Sunday rivers and was expected to reach Sunday river information today. I therefore moved out a strong force to cover the movement of Yule's command. The enemy was discovered about seven miles out of Ladysmith in a position of exceptional natural strength, west of the road. When the commander of the Boer force saw that preparations were being made against him, he opened fire with one gun with great accuracy. Our artillery soon got into position and the gun was silenced. Our troops were ordered to occupy a strong ridge, parallel to the enemy's position, but near the road. I confined my efforts to occupying him and hitting him hard enough to prevent him taking action against Yule's column. Numbers of the enemy fled to the west and the firing had practically ceased at 2 o'clock."

London, Oct. 25.—The war office dispatch seems to realize the worst case. General Yule has abandoned not only Dundee, but Glencoe, and so far as present news indicates he has neither joined General White nor reached Ladysmith. General White's successful action announced in parliament by Mr. Wyndham seemed to resolve itself into a mere engaging of the attention of the Boer State troops, while General Yule is slipping southward. It is evident from the official dispatches that both Commandant General Joubert's column on the north and the Orange Free State troops on the west now occupy strong positions and that nothing hinders the Boer State following up General Yule's retirement and getting around Ladysmith from the southeast. Until reinforcements arrive it seems that General White is obliged to concentrate on Ladysmith. It is believed that the government have other dispatches that have not yet been published. The secretary of state for war, Lord Lansdowne, is expected to leave for the front early in the morning. General Harrison and proceeded to the war office, where even after midnight there was much activity.

A few more victories like Glencoe and Elands-laagte would leave the British troops without officers. It is not expected the wounded held at Dundee will suffer any inconvenience, except in being prisoners of war. The news of unrest in Basutoland causes much anxiety. The correspondents who were taken prisoners on the train at Elands-laagte have since escaped. They report that the Boers were well treated by the Boers, and that in the collecting and assisting of the wounded, the Boers and British seem to have been mutually helpful. At Cape Town it is proposed to raise a Cape irregular force.

Gen. White has not fought his way out of Ladysmith, as published in New York, because he left Ladysmith Saturday morning and captured Elands-laagte, which is eighteen miles out, and he has since, apparently, moved towards Waschbank. He expected to unite with Gen. Yule in the neighborhood of Waschbank, therefore his fight with the Orange Free State troops must have occurred nearly twenty-five miles out from Ladysmith, and it took place on the Ladysmith-Newcastle road, which runs some two miles west and almost parallel with the railway, he evidently encountered the Free State force, which had taken up a position in Higgarsburg Hills and blocked the road to Ladysmith. General Yule, too, also threatening Gen. Yule's flank. The dispersal of the Orange Free State force sensibly improves the British position at Waschbank, if Gen. White decides to wait there for Gen. Joubert.

London, Oct. 25.—The colonial office this evening published a dispatch from Sir Alfred Milner, communicating a significant dispatch from Sir Godfrey Laiden, the British resident commissioner in Basutoland, calling attention to the recklessness of the Basutos, who he says, he has been trying to calm.

Vienna, Oct. 25.—A dispatch from Hollebaum, Moravia, says the people of that place, who have been baiting Jews, yesterday pillaged shops, set fire to a house and attacked the police. Later they fired killing three people and wounding thirty.

GENERAL JOUBERT.
(Commander in chief of the Boer forces.)

Cape Town, Oct. 28.—According to further advice from Kimberley, the Boers moved their killed and wounded in carts. No reliable estimate of their losses has been made. Mr. Rhodes rode out and watched the fight. The townspeople, including the women, mounted the trenches, watching eagerly for the return of the troops. Mr. Rhodes is cheerful and gives dinner parties daily, at which luxuries are abundant.

A special dispatch from Cape Town today gives the details of the defeat of 700 Boers by the British at Riverton, north of Kimberley, Wednesday, in which the enemy was completely routed with heavy loss, the British losing three killed and twenty, including two officers, wounded.

News from the northern border indicates the Boers are actively trying to prevent Col. Plummer from relieving Mafeking, hence the absence of news since Pretoria announced the forwarding of the place, is creating considerable anxiety. The newspapers are making the most of what they claim to be "significant admissions" in the supposed Boer official telegrams.

The magistrate at Vryburg is responsible for a report made to Premier Schreiner at Cape Town that 510 Boers were killed at Mafeking.

Pullman Palace Car Company.

New York, Oct. 28.—The statement is published here from information from Chicago that the control of the Pullman Palace Car company will pass out of the hands of the old Pullman crowd and into the hands of the Vanderbilts on Dec. 3. On that day the averted Pullman stock holders will meet and approve the agreement of the purchase of the Wagner company's assets and contracts recently ratified by the directors.

Batavia, N. Y., Oct. 30.—John Baker, fourteen years old, was yesterday killed by coming in contact with a wire while trying to obtain an entrance to the gallery in Delinger's opera house by way of the roof.

Address, 316 Main Street, Winnipeg.

LOCAL NEWS

A serious accident happened a few days ago to Ernest Winter, son of Mrs. Winter who has lately come to live in town. It seems the boy was carrying hay into the stable for the horses when one of them made a rush for the hay and in doing so hit the poor little fellow in the cheek, making a frightful wound. At one time it was feared the boy would die. Dr. Hall pressed the wound and we are very pleased to hear that the poor little sufferer is doing as well as can be expected.

Whatever may be said as to the adequacy of the reasons for a war between Great Britain and the South African republic one thing should be clear. The taking over of the Transvaal by Britain will mean the advent of a new era of freedom and prosperity for that colony. The extension of British sway has ever meant the extension of freedom, of enlightenment, of civilization and there is no reason to believe that the case of the Transvaal will be any exception to the rule. What has been accomplished in India, in Egypt, in Canada, in Cape Colony, is by no means impossible of accomplishment in the little Republic of South Africa.

Mr. N. Leslie and family have moved into the house lately occupied by Mr. Fisher.

We enjoyed very much reading the paper on "Training for Citizenship," published last week. Although we feel the picture is somewhat overdrawn there is, we fear, a great deal of painful truth in what Mr. Williams says. The great questions at present affecting mankind and call for citizens of liberal intelligence, of fearless independence and lofty moral purpose, citizens imbued with a keen interest in all that pertains to social, political and moral welfare of their fellows. And for the production of such citizens we must hold the teacher in the public school in a great measure responsible. But the teacher must be in touch with the times, must take an interest in the great questions of the day, social, political and educational, must be a man of ripe scholarship, of deep culture, of broad sympathies. The teacher who shuts himself in from the great world of social and political activity with its manifold problems calling for solution and the multifarious evils and abuses which illustrate a degradation is hardly competent to train beyond a grade in the mechanical of good citizenship. Such a teacher might as well teach a child to read by the method of the alphabet.

Mr. John Stephen, a rich Klondiker, returned from a trip to Seattle and yesterday, and passed word to his family in town. Mr. Stephen is an old time Klondiker. He found for several years at Qu'Appelle and for years ago he went to the Klondike with three other friends. They made an arrangement to "share up" and started this year. Every one of the four is now rich. To prove that his statement is no exaggeration, the Klondiker was no other than Mr. Stephen. of comment since its promulgation and certainly to our way of thinking it is one which should appeal to the favorable consideration of every intelligent citizen of this western country. A man who can not read or write is plainly not in a position to form an intelligent opinion as to the claim of any party or candidate upon his suffrage. We know of instances where ignorant unlettered voters have been "herded" in at the nod and beck of a single individual whose highest ambition was self-aggrandizement. The urgent need of such a limitation of the franchise is much more apparent in the case of school trustee elections where in many instances candidates are returned to office by the votes of those whose intelligence and whose interest in education approach dangerously near the vanishing point. We respectfully commend this matter to the consideration of those interested in the political and educational welfare of this great country. We shall return to the discussion of this subject again.

Territorial Tips.

The Regina Standard is having an addition made to its present office, which they expect will be ready in a month or six weeks.

Yorkton population are petitioning for incorporation.

A telegram of ten words sent over the new wire to Dawson will cost $4, and each additional word 20 cents.

No trace has been found of the escaped prisoner McFadden who got away from Regina jail two weeks ago. Two men who were charged with having aided McFadden's escape by furnishing him with a change of clothes, have been discharged, the evidence against them amounting to nothing.

Mr. Wilking, the Territorial weed inspector, is at present busily engaged at the Government offices attending to the duties of his position, his field work for the season being practically over. During the summer months he has been kept busy travelling all over the settled portion of the Territories overseeing the work of the local inspectors and instructing them in the best manner to deal with the various varieties of noxious weeds. With the opening of spring a very vigorous campaign will be instituted against weeds, particularly in northern Alberta where it is understood they are gaining ground, and a number of additional local inspectors will be appointed.

Mr. Frank McGillivray, formerly night operator at the C. P. R. station here, was in town on Monday on his way to Vancouver, where he will be located for the winter.—Wolsley News.

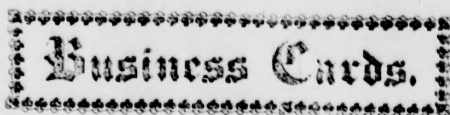

A change has taken place in the staff of the Union Bank at this point. Mr. Hepworth, who is laid off by illness, has been replaced by Mr. Secher of Smith's Falls. E. A. MacCall, of Qu'Appelle Station, has also secured a position in the Bank.
